CLARKE & CLARKE

ESPECTRO WEAVES

Espectro – meaning spectrum – explores the interplay of colour, form and tactility through woven structure. In Clarke & Clarke’s newest woven fabric collection, Espectro Weaves, versatile designs reflecting subtle architectural influences come to life in a spectrum of colour mixes and distinct textures.

Each design brings a distinct personality. Atrio’s jacquard quality and metallic thread enhance its subtle two-tone effect, while Camino’s chevron stripes echo winding roads in flecked, variegated yarn. Muro and Zocalo lean into organic forms with soft shimmers and tonal depth. This texture across the collection creates a beautifully detailed look, layering across the portfolio for another sophisticated addition to interior design schemes.

There’s playfulness too. Rambla and Sotano introduce movement through dashes and spots, while Torre’s diamond repeat nods to classical symmetry while retaining a contemporary feel overall.

An impactful Espectro palette is made up of soft, warm hues that dabble in midnights and teals as well as spaced notes. Multicoloured yarns explore the breadth of applications for some designs, while metallic accents in the yarns create an elevated finish.

United by dual-purpose practicality and lively spirit, Espectro Weaves brings architectural influence into the interior with softness, structure and imagination.
